Construction; Todd Bishop reported the following:

- The Energy Center's chiller is being upgraded to save the College money and be more efficient.
- Construction has begun on 16 new welding labs in GLTC. This project is being funded by the United Association. This will allow them to broadcast classes live around the country, Mexico, and Australia.
- Handicap buttons will be installed on the second floor doors in the Parking Structure that lead to the bridge area. There have been numerous conversations about one being installed to the main entrance to Security as well but, per code, it is not required.

3.) NEW BUSINESS –

- Melanie Jorgensen reported that the Ann Arbor Township Fire Department will begin campus wide fire inspections on March 20. Please make sure that all fire exits are clear and all storage is below 18 inches from fire sprinkler heads.
- Holly Herman and Saint inquired about CPR training. It was suggested that staff members contact Joel Pobursky for scheduling.
- Holly Herman from grounds was informed about several slip and falls due to the icy conditions.
- Melanie Jorgensen reported that during the sprinkler inspection, it was discovered that several sprinkle heads are not up to code in the GM building. These will need to be lowered to the ceiling tile height. This is being discussed between Melanie and Todd Bishop.
- Saint inquired about the two (2) doors missing at the bottom stairwell in SC and if they are up to code. Todd Bishop informed him that the College is not violating any codes and that all the doors might be removed.
